Institute for the Study of the USSR. [Research Materials]. Mimeographed Edition. Series 2.

Nos. 1-94. Munich, 1953-1966.

Organized in Munich in 1950, the Institute for the Study of the USSR was primarily a clearinghouse for the emigre scholarship of the Soviet Union. In addition to publishing journals and papers, the Institute sponsored conferences on the USSR and provided grants for research studies by emigre scholars.

Micropublication of this series of research studies — most of which has been unobtainable for many years — makes widely available an important source for the study of the Soviet Union. Each number in the series is devoted to a particular topic. The topics covered include science, education, agriculture, industry, labor, government, the arts, the Soviet intelligentsia, ethnic and religious groups in the USSR, and Soviet historiography and economic thought. Most of the material is in Russian or other Slavic languages: abstracts are in English, German, and French. For the convenience of the user, individual numbers have been filmed on separate fiches.
